

THE WILD BUNCH

Also known as the Hole-in-the-Wall gang, Butch Cassidy's leadership was unchallenged through periodic personnel changes. The group posed in Ft. Worth, Texas for J. Schwartz winter 1900-01 and sent a copy with thank you note, unsigned, back to the First National Bank of Winnemucca, Nev. after their Sept. 19, 1900 robbery which reportedly netted them $32,640 in gold coin. Left to right: Bill Carver and Harvey Logan (Kid Curry) standing behind Harry Longabaugh (the Sundance Kid), Ben Kilpatrick (the Tall Texan) and Robert LeRoy Parker (Butch Cassidy). Cattle rustling, bank robberies and daring railway express heists are attributed to the Wild Bunch across the West: Telluride, Colo.; Montpelier, Idaho; Castle Gate, Utah; Wilcox, Wyo.; Folsom, N. Mex. and elsewhere.

P.O. Box 155 Eureka, Utah 84628

EARLY Western IMAGES

Published by

BASIN/PLATEAU PRESS